SANTIAGO DESHIDRATADOS

Our Dried Mango Story

THE PACKHOUSE

We transform mangoes from fresh, juicy fruit to succulent and chewy dried snacks. Santiago Deshidratados is a state-of-the-art certified organic and kosher mango-drying facility located in our home town of El Rosario, not far from our main mango packhouse Empaque Don Jorge (Latin America's largest hydrothermal packhouse).

DRIED MANGO SEASON

We process our dried mangoes from May to October. About 9,000 lbs of dried mangoes are processed per day in the peak of the drying season. Our single-ingredient dehydrated mangoes are dried in the peak of sweetness. We dry Ataulfo, Kent & Keitt; these varieties have near fiberless flesh and make a succulent and chewy snack. We also process Tommy Atkins mangoes for the ingredient and processing sector.

USDA CERTIFIED ORGANIC

In addition to the orchards, all of the packing facilities and shipping facilities and our dried mango packing facilities are fully USDA Organic compliant.

Our dried organic mangoes support the Crespo family's mission and commitment to building long-term, sustainable agricultural systems and markets for their family and the Mexican land and people.
